In the event of a heifer being purchased by someone from Northern Ireland or mainland UK, following is the official Department of Agriculture rules:

As the sale is NOT an export sale, the heifer must return to your (the seller's) farm and remain there for a minimum of 42 days. She can then be Export TB tested, and subject to passing the Export TB test, transport to NI/mainland UK can be arranged. All arrangements, costs and risks associated with same are yours and the buyer's responsibility. We strongly recommend taking out insurance in this scenario.
